

GOLDENBERG'S MAKE $100,000 STORE PURCHASE

Entire Stock of Hayden's
Department Stores Sold in Big Deal.

Goldenberg's announce today the purchase of the entire stock of the Hayden Department Stores, located at the corner of Tenth and P streets, and occupying four buildings; the transaction involving nearly $100,000, making it the largest transaction of its kind ever recorded in the District of Columbia.

The Hayden stock was a completely equipped department store, handling men's furnishings; men's, ladies' and children's hosiery, men's clothing, boys' clothing, gloves, women's cloaks, suits, skirts, wrappers, etc., muslin underwear, corsets, umbrellas, and various other lines usually carried in department stores.

The very fact that Haydens have been in business in Washington only a little over a year is a guarantee that the stock is of new and recent purchase, which makes it all the more attractive. In addition to the stock, the store included thousands of dollars' worth of goods bought for the spring season—brand new goods, not even out of the boxes. This is especially interesting in the Ladies' Suit and Waist Department, as Easter is approaching, and a sale of women's high class suits, skirts and waists at bargain prices is an unusual opportunity.

The men's furnishings comprise makes such as Earl & Wilson shirts, Manhattan shirts, Griffo brand shirts, Merode underwear, Onyx hosiery, Pioneer suspenders, Earl & Wilson Ties, Arrow, Barker, Royal, Double Triangle, and Red Man collars; Aberbach ties, Cluett shirts, Monarch shirts, Superior shirts, Faultless shirts, President suspenders, Brighton and Paris garters, "Varsity" underwear, Goldbigen and French balbriggan underwear, English white line imported underwear, Sweet-Dry overalls, Adler's gloves, Fourstar knit sweaters, Burton hosiery, etc., etc.

In view of the fact that a large quantity of winter underwear, hosiery and sweaters are embraced in this stock, they have concluded to hold a winter sale of the Hayden stock some time later in the fall when such goods will be in demand; and thus not force their patrons to buy winter goods at the approach of the spring season. There are in all probability, about $30,000 worth of winter underwear, hosiery, and men's furnishings which will not be included in this sale. Still, however, there will be nearly $70,000 worth of reasonable merchandise to go at prices that have never been reached before.

In order to carefully dispose of the stock, and give all their customers equal opportunity, the store will announce that the sale will, in all probability, last two weeks, as new lots will be added every day.

For Judicial Increase Of Customs Duties

American manufacturers who are dissatisfied with the amount of protection afforded them under the administration of the customs tariff, have, by indirectness, appeal to the Customs Court of Appeals for the levying of a higher duty. The Customs Court has so decided.

In its decision the court held that where importers regard the assessed rate as illegally low, they can, for their own safety and protection, appeal to the proper tribunals, so that they may get the full measure of protection provided by law.

The question was decided in the case of L. H. A. Schwartz and T. Aubrey Byrne, importers, who sought their assessment by a collector of customs and were sustained by the board of general appraisers. The government appealed to the Customs Court.

In a minority opinion, Judge Barber said the real party at interest in one of these cases is a domestic manufacturer.

Republicans Confer On Tariff Measures

Republicans of the House met in conference today to determine upon a course of action regarding the free sugar bill and other Democratic tariff measures. The gathering of the minority members was called a conference rather than a caucus, and its action is not necessarily binding upon those who attended. Both regulars and insurgents were invited to participate in the party council.

The conference was requested by Minority Leader Mann, who hopes to line up the Republican side of the House solidly against the free sugar bill. The Republicans, it is learned, also believe the Democratic members from Louisiana and Colorado, sugar producing States, will join with them in voting against the free sugar measure and an effort will be made to recommit it to the Ways and Means Committee.

The general legislative policy of the minority was brought up in today's conference, which is the first to be held by the entire Republican membership since that party became a minority in the House.

Alexandria Council Will Act on Measure Friday Appropriating $10,000 for New Building—Improved
Gas Lamps Urged for Streets.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.
ALEXANDRIA, VA., MARCH 12.
At a meeting of the city council held last night, the report of the finance committee, recommending the appropriation of $10,000 for the purchase of the property at Cameron and West streets, as a site for the proposed high school building, was received and adopted by the council. Under the rules of the council, the committee could not act on the matter at last night's meeting, and a special meeting has been called for Friday night, at which time it will be passed upon. The measure has been considered in both bodies for several weeks.

A resolution was introduced by Councilman Brockert, providing for the placing of improved gas lamps on a number of street corners where there is at present no illumination. The matter was referred to the light committee.

The necessity for the codification of the city's laws came in for considerable discussion. Councilman Loudon called attention to the fact that many statutes remained on the city's books for a hundred years without revision.

An appropriation of $250 was made for repairs and maintenance of the Children's Home.

In the absence of President Snowden, Howard W. Smith presided.

No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral of Mrs. Lula Thornhill.

HEALTH BULLETIN CONTAINS WARNING ABOUT HEART ILLS

Organic Disease Is Increasing in the District.

Directing attention to its records, which show that out of a total of 122 deaths in the District during the week ended March 2, twenty were due to heart trouble, the Health Department, in its weekly bulletin, made public today, advises medical examination in all cases where a suspicion of heart affection exists.

"Health Department statistics indicate that organic heart disease is increasing," says the report. "For the five-year period between 1906 and 1908 the average death rate from these diseases was 10.000 inhabitants was 15.7. For the next five years, from 1909 to 1910, the rate increased to 18.4, and for the following five years, from 1906 to 1910, 18.6 died out of every 100,000. These figures, while large, do not, it should be borne in mind, represent all the fatalities which might be properly attributed to heart disease. Many deaths from acute disease, pneumonia, for instance, are influenced by a weakened condition of the heart. In the absence of which many patients would have recovered. Something can be done in controlling the number of these fatalities that affect the heart, but much more can be done to diminish the mortality by an early knowledge of their existence.

A continued decrease in typhoid fever is shown by the report, the number of cases being reduced from fifty-two to forty-eight.

The record of other diseases is as follows: Diphtheria, 11; whooping cough, 18; measles, 37; and chickenpox, 143.

The number of births during the week was 142, of which ninety-five were white and forty-eight colored.

CLAIMS AMERICANS MOST CARELESS OF PEOPLE ON EARTH

Miss Boardman Tells How Many Accidents Could Be Avoided.

Two-thirds of the accidents that annually occur in industrial trades could be avoided by the exercise of care, according to Miss Mabel Boardman, in her address before the Washington Alliance of Jewish Women at the Eighth Street Temple. There are more than a half million such accidents each year. Miss Boardman said that the educational campaigns that are being carried forward by the American Red Cross in all parts of the country are doing much to decrease the number of injuries.

Americans are the most careless people on earth, in the estimation of Miss Boardman, and because of this she deems it particularly necessary that ideas of care be instilled into the minds of children, so that when they mature there may linger some trace of early caution.

She described the different kinds of "first aid" outfits used in mines and factories, and explained how they are used, with her some of the newest apparatus that the Red Cross is using. Much interest was manifested in the lecture.

More than 100 members of the society attended the lecture, at which Mrs. Joseph Kahn, president, presided.

The society received an invitation from the Housekeepers' Alliance to join with it in the celebration of the week of bread, and from the Consumers' League came an invitation to visit the exhibit of sweet shop goods, maintained at 1228 E street.

A musical program followed the conclusion of Miss Boardman's lecture.

WANT FAT-REDUCING SPECIALIST TO HEAD WOMEN'S TICKET

Marjorie Hamilton, who has made a fortune as a beauty specialist, offered high political honors.

Denver political circles are planning to make the greatest equal rights demonstration in the history of the movement at the next Presidential election. To do this, the leaders in the movement have hit on what they consider to be a unique idea. They are going to offer as their candidate the best advertised woman in the United States. This is the famous calendar girl and fat reducing expert, Marjorie H. Hamilton.

Miss Hamilton has been living in Denver for some time now and it is from here that she has conducted her campaign against fat. As her slogan, "the line that faces one from every newspaper and magazine in the world," she has won a following of thousands. The entire world among social leaders and actresses who keep down their weight with her now famous treatment. She has built up an enormous business with her treatment for obesity and her executive ability is looked on as a powerful asset by the suffrage leaders.

Now, that I am this again, I'll run for any office they want me for, said Miss Hamilton in a recent interview. "But it must be on a beauty platform and our campaign slogan must be 'Fat Vanishes a Pound a Day.' I couldn't run for anything, however, when I was a fat joke." Then she laughed and declared to be a candidate because her affairs are keeping her too busy to do anything but run her own business. The suffragists still hope to bring her to accept the offer for a political job. It would be strange if Miss Hamilton's great success as a fat reducing specialist should lead her to the White House.

Scores Fighting Women.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Declaring that two women in a quarrel could make more trouble than an arm of men, Judge Hopkins dismissed the slander suit of Mrs. Marie Berberich against Mrs. Anna Christoph as not "justifiable."
